

ABOUT THE INSTITUTION

University College of Engineering Ramanathapuram was started in the academic year 2008–2009 under the control of Anna University, Tiruchirapalli and then handed over to Anna University of Technology, Madurai. Now, this campus is running as one of the constituent colleges of Anna University, Chennai. Ever since its inception, the campus has been registering steady progress and it currently offers five undergraduate courses in major branches of engineering. The college is actively involved in various research projects. It is situated at Pullangudi, about 9 Km from Ramanathapuram town and about 7 Km from Devipattinam.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Computer Science and Engineering (CSE) was started in the year 2008. The department is offering an UG course in CSE and planned to offer PG courses in CSE and part –time UG course. The department has a team of highly qualified, experienced and dedicated faculty and high skilled supporting staff members. The department has laboratories with modern and state –of – the –art equipment and excellent laboratory facilities. The department has been conducting many workshops, symposiums and seminars for the welfare of the students & faculties.
