Anna University

Anna University, Chennai is one of the best ranked Technical University in India. It was recognised by UGC as an University with Potential for Excellence and identified by MHRD as an Institute of Eminence. Comprising of 4 University Departments, 16 Constituent Colleges and 494 Affiliated Colleges. Anna University offers 84 UG and 171 PG Programmes in Engineering, Technology, Architecture and Applied Sciences. Anna University strives to promote research and dissemination of knowledge gained therefrom.

SC/ST Cell & Nodal Office

The SC/ST cell at Anna University was formed under UGC guidance in 1988. It is meant to implement, monitor, and assess the reservation policy in University departments, constituent colleges and affiliated colleges with respect to student admission and recruitment. In addition resolving the grievances of its teaching faculty and non-teaching staff members is also a crucial component. The Cell has the responsibility to analyse data to show trends and changes and to take follow-up measures for its effective implementation in order to achieve the Government of India and UGC's goals.
