DST - Lockheed Martin
India Innovation Growth Programme 2014

CALLING INNOVATORS

- Technology Start-ups
- Technology Incubators
- Techno - Entrepreneurs
- Scientists & Researchers

Department of Science and Technology (DST), Government of India and Lockheed Martin Corporation, USA launch the DST - Lockheed Martin India Innovation Growth Programme (IIGP) 2014 in partnership with the biennial Indo-US Science and Technology Forum (IUSSTF), Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI), Stanford Graduate School of Business (US) and IC Institute of University of Texas at Austin, US.

Programme Objectives:
- Assist Indian innovators accelerate their technologies into the global marketplace
- Help innovators assess the right scientific and commercial value of their innovation
- To get the right product to the right market with the right partner at the right time

Programme Benefits:
- Learn the right strategies for commercialization of your innovation
- Work with leading global experts from the Stanford Graduate School of Business and the IC Institute to steer the innovation process in the global market place
- Business development assistance from FICCI and IC managers for linking your innovation to the right industry and funding partners
- Showcase your technology before potential industry partners, customers and investors through technology exposions in India

Programme Accomplishments:
- Approx 4000 technology applications received and evaluated
- Advanced training in Technology Commercialization Strategies, Venture Formation, Venture Finance, Technology Marketing, Competitive Technical Strategies and Presentation Skills by subject matter experts provided to 270 innovators
- Over 300 Business Engagement Agreements signed connecting innovators to industry partners, venture funds, angel funds as well as government funding authorities
- Revenues exceeding INR 1,600 Crores (US$275 million) generated by participants and their companies during 2010-2012 (Source: E&Y Impact Analysis Report 2012)

Last date to apply: February 24, 2014

So, do you have an innovative technology? Are you looking for an experienced team to help and guide you through the technology assessment and commercialization process?

Apply now at www.indiainnovates.in

For further information, please contact:
Mr. Niranjan Saxena, Senior Director / Ms. Eetee Gupta, Deputy Director
Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI)
Email us at: ilgp@ficci.com

Anna University, Chennai-25.