The university offers higher education in the field of Engineering & Technology and Allied Sciences relevant to the current and the projected needs of the society. The university is very keen in promoting the varied areas of research. It also fosters immense co-operation between academic and industrial communities.

Being a pioneer in Engineering & Technology and Allied Sciences, to spearhead the academic activities throughout the state, it has four Regional Centres at Coimbatore, Madurai, Tiruchirapalli and Tirunelveli.

Regional Office, Anna University: Tirunelveli has 7 departments and it offers 12 PG degree programme and 3 UG degree programme.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

Department of Computer Applications is offering MCA degree programme from the year 2008. The department is persistent in providing an excellent pathway to widen and enrich the knowledge horizons of the student community. The students are budding composed personality to face the future with courage and fortitude.

The laboratory provides excellent infrastructure facility for the students to cater to the needs of the IT industry.

The faculty members are working in different areas of research like Data Mining, Cloud Computing, Grid Computing, Digital Image Processing, Data Structures and Algorithms, Neural Networks and Fuzzy Logic.

COURSE OBJECTIVE

Data Analysis and Handling is a common challenge and is becoming more complex. Mining the real valued dataset is a difficult process. The major challenge lies in using appropriate techniques to mine the data. Techniques are indeed required for unifying research and long standing theoretical issues need to be addressed.

The programme focuses on imparting the required information using different concepts and techniques in data mining like association, classification and prediction used in different kinds of database.

Hands on training on prediction tools will impart knowledge on using the tool in an effective way to solve the various research problems.
