

ABOUT ANNA UNIVERSITY:

Anna University was established in September 1978 as a unitary type of technical university amalgamating four institutions: the College of Engineering Guindy, the A C College of Technology, the Madras Institute of Technology and the School of Architecture and Planning. All these four institutions each with a long history and distinct characteristics of own, provided a fertile reservoir of resources from which the nascent university has been formed and grown to its present stature. The College of Engineering Guindy, the main campus of the University, is one of the oldest technical institutions in India. Its origin dates back to 1794, which was established as a Survey School by East India Company. The University offers 45 Under-Graduate and 108 Post-Graduate Programmes along with M.Phil, M .S.(By Research) and Ph.D. Programmes. The University receives grants from the state and central governments, national and international agencies, and industrial houses. University Grants Commission has recognized the achievements of Anna University and provided the university with the coveted status as the University with Potential for Excellence in the field of Bio Medical Engineering and Instrumentation.

ABOUT THE CENTRE:

Centre for Medical Electronics was established in the year 1998. Its main goal is to create and nurture qualified technical manpower towards academic excellence, research and development and competence. The centre carries out research in the field of Medical Electronics and Bio Medical Engineering and also establishes collaboration with medical industries and hospitals. It is functioning with an aim of developing research and development activities in the field of Medical Electronics and Bio-Medical Engineering.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

Wearable devices have evolved from life-saving devices to fashion accessories and range from activity monitor bracelets, smart watches, and smart glasses to GPS enabled shoes, all of which now have a growing market demand. The field of wearable technology has been experiencing explosive growth with exciting applications in the fields of medicine, healthcare, sports, fitness, and entertainment, as well as new ways for people to interact, communicate, and experience the environment around them. The workshop aims to provide researchers, practitioners from academia, industry and hospitals with a state-of-the-art coverage of the advances in wearable technology and devices. Design of wearable devices, its latest applications and the main challenges in the implementation of wearable devices will be covered.

COURSE CONTENT

- Wearable sensors
- Energy Harvesting for wearable devices
- Signal processing for wearable devices
- Artificial Intelligence in wearables
- Wireless body area networks
- Applications of wearable technology in
 - Healthcare and Medicine
 - Sports and fitness
 - Assistive Technology
 - Military Applications
 - Smart textiles
 - VR and AR
- Demonstration of Wearable devices for biomedical applications.

Resource Persons

Sessions will be handled by eminent speakers from Anna University, IIT Madras, IIT Bombay, DEBEL, DRDO Bangalore, HCL Technologies, Xfinito Biodesigns and Circuitects Electronic Pvt. Ltd.
