ABOUT ANNA UNIVERSITY

Anna University was established on 4th September, 1978 as a unitary type of University. It provides higher education in Engineering, Technology and Allied Sciences significant to the current and expected needs of the society. It has an extensive link with Indian industries, national research laboratories, and international universities. This enables the university to continue with new development and emerging technologies.

ABOUT THE CENTRE

Centre for Medical Electronics was established in the year 1998. Its main goal is to create and nurture qualified technical manpower towards academic excellence, research and development attitude and competence. The centre carries out research in the field of Medical Electronics and Bio Medical Engineering and also establishes collaboration with medical industries and hospitals. It is functioning with an aim of developing research and development activities in Medical Electronics and Bio Medical Engineering.

OBJECTIVE

The objective of this workshop is to provide opportunity for Biomedical engineers, Researchers and Faculty members to enrich their knowledge in the area of Brain Computer Interface and its applications. This workshop will focus on the acquisition and analysis of bio signals suitable for Brain Computer Interface applications .

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WORKSHOP

Brain Computer Interface is an interdisciplinary field which develops computational and mathematical methods for analyzing the brain functions during specific activities of the brain. This helps to establish communication between the brain function and an external device. Hence the main goal of BCI is the acquisition of brain related signals and processing them, mainly for rehabilitation applications. The workshop will provide brief insights on the following:

- Signal acquisition and pre processing
- Pattern recognition and classification of the BCI signal for deriving control signal
- BCI Applications and Case studies
- Practical session on brain signal acquisition
