Nottingham Trent University

Global Immersion Program for Architecture & Civil Engg. Students @ NTU, UK

Established in 1843, Nottingham Trent University has a long history of unlocking potential, breaking down barriers and making a real difference to lives around the world.

With over 40,000 students and staff spanning five university sites, Nottingham Trent University (NTU) is one of the largest and most influential higher education institutions in the country. The university is committed to driving forward meaningful change and has received a wide range of prestigious awards for its research, dynamism and innovation. From the vibrant City Campus in the bustling heart of Nottingham to the idyllic countryside estate of Brackenhurst, the University has a number of sites across Nottingham and the surrounding areas.

The City Campus is big enough to inspire and compact enough to provide a sense of community; one where our best and proudest traditions sit shoulder to shoulder with new theories, new practice and new possibilities; a mix of heritage and innovation that sums up the city.

A range of cafés and restaurants on the City Campus are based in convenient locations, offering food and drink to suit all tastes and dietary requirements. NTU is an award-winning University like no other:

This is a curated program for students aged 18 or over who wish to visit the UK and have an educational and cultural experience.

The course is a combination of time on the NTU campus and time on location in the city and region exploring museums, galleries and visitor attractions that will support their learning.

The Program:

Architecture & Heritage

This program helps you to :

- become a better thinker
- to develop your own design approach and style
- get a sneak peek into diverse aspects of architectural design, linking sustainability and urban design with business practice
- experience the different approaches, uncover history, discover heritage, understand culture behind the design thinking
- meet with faculties / interact with other students
- expand your mind to explore newer ideas and get inspired to create your own approach to the art of creative thinking in architectural design
- Experience an overseas campus, Gain Independence, Learn about yourself & explore possibilities

Destination - Nottingham City

Nottingham is a gorgeous city with a ton to see and explore. If you're plotting out an England itinerary, you should definitely add in a stop in this historic city.

Since it's surrounded by the stunning Nottinghamshire countryside, if you're visiting the city, you should definitely look at day trips to some beautiful places nearby. The surrounding areas are full of castles, nature reserves, parks and country walks, all within an hour's drive.

While the city provides plenty to see, you'll find there are even more exciting day trips from Nottingham. From seeing 900-year-old castles, visiting the home of Robin Hood, spectacular countryside in the Peak District, and romantic stately homes belonging to former poets, there are plenty of Nottingham day trips to keep you entertained.

The National Justice Museum is an independent museum on High Pavement in the Lace Market area of Nottingham, England. The museum is housed in a former Victorian courtroom, prison, and police station and is therefore a historic site where an individual could be arrested, tried, sentenced and executed. New Art Exchange Visual arts centre led by African, Caribbean and South Asian artists. Nottingham Contemporary is one of the largest contemporary art galleries in the UK, presenting exhibitions, special events, and family activities.

Weekend London trip as a great option:

From the modern London Eye to the historic Tower of London, there are many attractions in London that are a must-see on any sightseeing trip. Even better, many London landmarks are free to visit. Soak up some culture at London museums, visit Buckingham Palace, or take the perfect picture with Big Ben. Get up close and personal with underwater creatures at SEA LIFE London Aquarium or explore the Science Museum, London's interactive hub of science and technology.

Architecture, Drawing and the City - Course Description:

This course will explore the concept of place through drawing. It will introduce you to the notion of drawing and design as tools for recording, reflecting and communicating ideas around architecture and the built environment. The course is therefore ideal for anyone currently studying architecture, or thinking about studying it in the future, or anyone who's simply interested in drawing and the urban landscape who wants to learn more.

This will be a practical course based on location and in the design studio. It will begin with a day of drawing and one-to-one tutorials to explore your current interests and project plan.

On-location visits to place of architectural importance are key to this course. Students will record their interpretation of space through drawing and investigate how the people and buildings interact. Visits will include:

Nottingham's Old Market Square

A focal point for residents and visitors, Old Market Square is where friends meet, shoppers have a rest, and many great days and nights begin. It is the largest public space in the UK after London's Trafalgar Square and is a major hub for the city's social scene and transport links.

The Malt Cross

The Malt Cross is a Grade II listed Victorian Music Hall set at the heart of Nottingham city centre, just off Old Market Square. It is the only Victorian Music Hall in the country that operates as it's original design intended.

The Lace Market

With over one thousand years of human history under its streets, Hockley and the Lace Market are the oldest areas in the city. Making up part of the Creative Quarter, these districts each have their own unique character, and today the area merges history with independent culture, revealing the spirit of modern Nottingham.

Newark

Newark is a thriving market town in Nottinghamshire. The historic and picturesque market town boasts many heritage attractions and activities. Famed for its role in the English Civil War, one of the town's main historic attractions is Newark Castle, a Royalist stronghold.

Wollaton Hall

Wollaton Hall is one of the country's finest Grade I listed Elizabethan buildings with the largest dedicated Natural History Museum in Nottinghamshire. Herds of deer and a range of wildlife roam 500 acres of parkland at Wollaton, which is home to all kinds of habitats, including grassland, wetland and woodland.

NTU city campus

Our City Campus is typical of Nottingham itself. It's a place that's big enough to inspire and compact enough to provide a sense of community; one where our best and proudest traditions sit shoulder to shoulder with new theories, new practice and new possibilities. It's the same mix of heritage and innovation that sums up the city.

On this course you will undertake projects that:

- ☐ use different materials 'in-situ' to record architecture
- ☐ involve site observations to help you engage with a location
- ☐ research how people interact with the environment
- ☐ improve your skills in hand drawing
- ☐ use the computer to generate images that identify spatial activity, infrastructure and the built form.

The course will include architectural history and theory as well as group project work and presentations to demonstrate your artistic understanding of drawing, pattern and architecture.

Entry requirement: Some experience related to architecture or drawing is useful, but not essential.

Tutor Profile: Carlos Marquez began his architecture career in Chile. He then went on to develop a collection of visual notations during trips around Europe, India, Greece and Latin-American as well as during his design and teaching activities. Carlos has presented his work at conferences about drawing in architecture and exhibited part of his collection of sketchbooks in The Usher Gallery. He has taught and promoted the use of visual notation and observation as a fundamental component when learning about architecture.

He has run drawing workshops around the world. Carlos currently teaches on the Interior Architecture and Design course at NTU.

Materials List:

Please bring with you to the first day:

- ☐ a notepad, sketchbook and pens and pencils
- ☐ a camera is useful for recording your visits, and a laptop can be useful but is not essential.

All other materials will be provided.

Assessment:

There is no examination, but students will receive a certificate of attendance.
