JLPT

Japanese Language Proficiency Test
By Japanese Government

What is JLPT

Brief Introduction

It is a standardized criterion-referenced test to assess, verify, and confirm the ability of the Japanese language of non-native speakers and Japanese learners.

It covers Japanese language knowledge, reading comprehension, and listening skills.

JLPT LEVEL

JLPT comprises five levels (N1, N2, N3, N4, N5).

The most manageable and lowest level is N5, and the most challenging and highest level is N1. They are valid for life, awarded and recognized worldwide.

Syllabus and Course Content

(i) N5 – It is specially developed for beginners. Candidates are expected to learn Hiragana, Katakana, around 100 Kanji (Chinese characters), their readings and pronunciations, and approximately 400-500 Japanese words and the basic rudiments of Japanese Grammar.

(ii) N4 – One can listen and comprehend conversations encountered in daily life and generally follow their contents, provided that they are spoken slowly. You need nearly 300 Kanji and 1500 Japanese words.

(iii) N3 – One can listen, read, and comprehend coherent conversations in everyday situations at near-natural speed and typically follow their contents and grasp the relationships among the people involved. You require roughly 600 to 700 Kanji and also approximately 3000 to 4000 Japanese words.

(iv) N2 – Level 2 represented an even more notable jump up in requirements. At this level, the demand surges to 1000 kanji and 6000 words.

People who attain level 2 are acknowledged to have upper intermediate Japanese conversational ability and can say so on their resume.

(v) N1 – Level 1 is, as you would expect, the highest and most sophisticated level.

Students who passed this advanced level would have to master 2000 to 2500 kanji and more than 10,000 words.

In short, you are a Japanese expert, and proficiency resembles near-native!

JLPT Exam Dates

The JLPT is held twice a year (on the first Sunday of July and December) in Japan and selected countries, including India, and once a year in other regions (on the first Sunday of December).

The application period is usually around early March until late April for July's examination and around early August until late September for December's exam.

CodeTots

Exam Format

JLPT uses an MCQ multiple-choice computer-scored answer sheet.

JLPT exam is of 180 marks. For N1 to N3 – Test questions are subdivided into three major sections.

(i) Vocabulary & Grammar, (ii) Reading, and (iii) Listening, whereas, for N4 and N5, there are only two sections : (i) Vocabulary & Grammar and Reading, and (ii) Listening.
