CIRCULAR

Nagoya Institute of Technology (NITech), Japan is offering “International Graduate Program for Global Engineers 2021”. This is a 2 years’ Master program for international students who are expected to find employment in Japanese manufacturing companies after completing the program. During the 2 years’ program, the students are required to participate in the special program designed to develop highly-skilled engineers, in order to obtain proper skills and knowledge to work in the manufacturing Japanese industry in future.

The application for this program for the enrollment in October 2021 is now open until January 8 2021, and it is highly appreciated if you could make the program well known to your students who could be interested in.

For details and application procedure, please refer to the following website.
